Wood Tatham, Who Sublet A. Kirk ith's Studio, Admits He Pawned the Things—Is the Tatham Who Prometes Auto Shows—In Trouble Before.

C. Wood Tatham, promoter of automo bile races and shows, was arrested last night charged with looting the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kirk Smith, both artists, at 100 West Ninety-first street, which he had subleased for the summer. The Smiths place a nominal value of 6,000 on the goods stelen.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith went abroad on ment was answered by Tatham, and the Smiths immediately turned over the apartments to him. He was accomthe apartments to him. He was accom-panied by a woman whom he introduced as his wife. Tatham furnished references, have known him three years. My husbut the artists were so pleased with his band and I moved to several places in topsy-turvy and the Tathams gone. The pictures had been taken from the walls ad a number of other pictures which lso missing. Among these were two Corots. Altogether the stuff stolen from the apartments included twenty-three fremed oil paintings, two framed water colors and about fifty unframed cana quentity of silver and glass, several pieces of fine tapestry, a quantity of table linen and considerable wearing pparel.

Mr. Smith reported the loss to the letective bureau and Detectives Conroy nd McIlhargy picked up Tatham last ight at Ninety-sixth street and Broadray. Twenty-one pawntickets were found in his pockets, and according to the deteclives Tatham admitted the theft. He mid that as fast as he had got short of ey he had taken a picture or a piece of silver or anything else that he saw in the ents that was valuable and pawned

In addition to the property stolen the Smiths lost the greater part of their rent, for which Tatham had promised to send hem a check but didn't.

Tatham showed the police a card on which was his name and the words, Automobile Club of America, Club Journal of the Automobile Club of America, the Aero Club of America, and the Motor Boat Club of America." Men conted with the Automobile Club and with the publication of the club journal said last night that they could not recall that anybody by the name of Tatham was ed with the club or journal.

Tatham was arrested on February 17 last by Headquarters Detectives Brown and Griffin on a charge of passing a worthoss check at the Manhattan Opera House box office and receiving for it $50 worth of opera tickets. He pleaded guilty in General Sessions and sentence was susded by Justice Crane.

Tatham is well known in local automohile and hotel circles. A year ago he hired Young's Pier at Atlantic City and put on an automobile show there, running it in connection with some automobile races, of which he also was the promoter. He said last night that he had cleared $2,500 out of the races and show, but that the money had gone very quickly.

Tatham told Mr. and Mrs. Smith that he wrote magazine articles for a living, and that Tatham charged bills with the neighboring tradesmen in their name all summer, and that along with the larger items of butcher's and grocer's bills even the gas company's bills are still unpaid—and are made out in the same of A. K. Smith.

The detectives have already found and the summed the ring seller enter another store a few doors down the street. Another futile attempt was made to sell the stuff and when he came out. Dennehy arrested him.

He said at first that he was R. E. Campbell's name was on the register but when the man was searched at headquarters letters, telegrams and cards bearing the name of Howard Nesbit were found on him.

Later the police say the prisoner admitted his identity and said that he had tried to dispose of the rings in Bridgeport two days ago. The rings, which he said were valued at $35 each, were worth about 50 cents each, according to those who examined them. hile and hotel circles. A year ago he hired Young's Pier at Atlantic City and arme of A. K. Smith.

The detectives have already found a number of the pictures. Mr. Smith furnished them with picture] postcards and other reproductions if many of the pictures, some of which were copies made by the two artists from various paintings in European galleries, and the detectives last night were making the rounds of the pawnshops.

Tatham was locked up at Police Headquarters.

The motion for further postponement was denied and in his remarks accompanying his decision the Judge laid stress on the apparent delay of the Governmen in bringing the proceedings against Mr. Smith and Mr. Williams originally and on subsequent delays which have been encountered at the instance of the Govern-

Concluding he said the defendants were under indictments and should have a hearing or be discharged and to Charles W. Miller, United States District Attorney, who represented the Government he said: "You may write to the Attorney General and tell him that I will not do it," meaning that he would not grant the further postponement which had been requested by the Government.

The case will now come up in the Federal court on October 11, the date set when partial hearing was had last June and when there was a postponement at the request of Stuart McNamara of Washington, representing the Department of Justice, and District Attorney Miller, who pleaded that they had been taken by sur-prise by the evidence introduced by the defence and that they wished more time in which to bring in witnesses in rebuttal.

SCHOOL CHILDREN'S PART.

Exercises to Illustrate the Educational Side of Celebration.

All the school children in Greater New York yesterday participated in exercises in their various schools commemorating Fulton celebration. The exercises were of an educational nature calculated to impress upon the minds of the pupils the growth of the city and the nation.

There were tableaux, verses and songs and dramatizations of the happenings of the three centuries that have elapsed since first the Half Moon sailed up the Hudson River.

NO ORDER AGAINST STANDS

JUSTICE BLANCHARD DENIES REQUEST FOR IT.

Within His Rights in Having the Seats Put Up Temporarily, Without Any Profit to Himself, Is Upheld by Court.

Supreme Court Justice Blanchard de nied yesterday the application of Louis Epstein for an order directing Park Comfor the Hudson-Fulton parade stands erected on the east side of Central Park West, the north side of Fifty-ninth street between Fifth and Eighth avenues and n Fifth avenue between Fifty-ninth and Fourth streets, as well as for an injunction restraining the police from keepbuilt. The application was made on the ground that the Park Commissioner has junction restraining the police from keeping the general public off the stands now built. The application was made on the ground that the Park Commissioner has no power to grant such permits where the grantors expect to charge admission to the stands for private gain.

The Court says in his decision that the moving papers allege that these stands encumber the sidewalke and park property of the city and that they will be used by the parties enjoying the licenses to the exclusion of the general public for the purpose of reviewing the parades of the Hudson-Fulton celebration.

"The moving papers fail to allege that any profit has been sought by the Commissioner of Parks or the city of New York in the granting of such licenses," says the Court, "and it is not satisfactorily established that any profit has been sought by any licensees in the use of such licenses. They further fail to allege that the plaintiff is assessed in the sum of $1,000 or more or any of the circumstances upon which may be predicated a pecuniary loss to the plaintiff as a staxpayer or to the city of New York Charter gives the Park Commissioner power to institute and execute all measures for the improvement of the parks for ormamental purposes and for the beneficial uses of the people of the parks for ormamental purposes and for the beneficial uses of the people of the perks for ormamental purposes and for the degrees expenditures. Speak-missioner power "to institute and execute all measures for the improvement of the parks for ornamental purposes and for the beneficial uses of the people of the city of New York," and that he shall have power "to construct, erect and establish seats " when he may deem it tasteful and appropriate so to do on any part of the public streets or avenues within such environments."

"Obviously the province of the law just quoted permits the erection of seats in such number and manner as the Commissioner may determine for the use of the public generally." says Justice Blanchard. "The language of the section is comprehensive and it may well be claimed that the Commissioner has in the exercise of his discretion the right to do under it all it is claimed he has done. "As no appropriation is available to the Commissioner of Parks for the erection of seats for the benefit of all the people who may desire to review the parades of the Hudson-Fulton celebration, it would seem under the circumstances that the Commissioner might properly delegate the right to erect seats to such persons and organizations as he may reasonably deem most peculiarly interested in the purpose of the celebration, and if no corrupt motive is shown in the exercise of his discretion and no abuse of the right for the purpose of financial gain on the part of those persons or organizations to whom the right has been delegated, the Court will not disturb the exercise of the Commissioner's discretion."

discretion."

Justice Blanchard says that the answering affids vit of Park Commissioner Smith states that he is vigilant in refusing and revoking licenses to persons and organizations which sought to derive advantages therefrom, and that the answering affids vits of certain licensees affirmatively show that such licensees are organizations of a patriotic character and that no pecuniary advantage is being derived. He says that the seats and stands complained of are of a temporary nature and will continue only for several days.

"Upon a well settled rule that a preliminary injunction will not be granted to protect rights dependent on a disputed question of law the Court must refuse to grant this motion." says Justice to grant this motion," says Justice Blanchard. "The Court is influenced in the decision by the fact that except the Commissioner of Parks none of the parties who might be affected by the granting of such relief have been served herein."

The report of the Lehigh Valley for the year ended June 30 last was made public yesterday at the close of the meetyesterday at the close of the meeting of the board of directors in Philadel phia. The report, in common with other anthracite carriers, shows the effects of the panic year on business.

President E. B. Thomas in his address to the stockholders argues against certain peculiarities in the system of accounting as prescribed by the Interstate Co. Commission. President Thomas says that the company has endeavored to obtain relief from the two cent rate law enacted by the State of Pennsylvania, but thus far has been unsuccessful. He points to the decrease in the number of asualties to employees and adds that the better showing is by no means due to the activity of various railway commissions.

Your company has been unable as yet to obtain any relief from the law enacted rates of fare to a maximum of two cents per mile, although every effort to that end is being made, which if successful will in that State.

The report continues: It is gratifying to note that the last year has witnessed no additional violent or radical legislation affecting railroads, either by Congress or the various States in that there is some revival in business tivity, which if unhampered by adverse legislation should result in a speedy return to

The Lehigh Valley Coal Company, the stock of which is owned by the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, issued its report of operations in separate form. The report says:

The cost of producing coal is each year showing a serious increase owing to the gradual exhaustion of the thicker and more cheaply mined veins near the surface. making if necessary to work thinner veins at greater depths and longer distances from the openings. This increases the cost of the underground operations and of pumping and ventilating, which latter are continuing items of expense, as great when the mines are idle as when in operation.

The net income from the operations conducted by the Lehigh Valley Coal Company during the fiscal year amounted to $375,452, a decrease of $13,153 as compared with the previous year.

ARMY OFFICERS TEST RIDE.

About Twenty Return to Fort Myer After Riding 90 Miles in Three Days. WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 .- A party of about twenty officers, in command of Col. returned to Fort Meyer, Virginia, to-day, completing the annual horsemanship test of riding ninety miles in three days. It was the first test ride held here this fall and all the officers were from various posts
